Everyday Leaders:
Small Actions

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the difference between micromanagement and everyday leadership and the importance of empowering and nurturing others.
- Recognize the value of stepping outside one's comfort zone to facilitate personal and professional growth.
- Seek discomfort to lead to greater growth over time with strategies for gradually expanding one's comfort zone through small, everyday actions.
- Appreciate how individuals can have a profound impact on those around them regardless of position or title.
- Discover the importance of finding one's "why" as a leader beyond pursuing victories or accolades.
- Understand how prioritizing the needs, growth and happiness of others is a key aspect of effective everyday leadership. (It's not about you)
